ALEXANDRIA:

THESDAY MORNING, JUNE 22, 1858.

The British Secretary for Foreign affairs, as our readers saw by yesterday's Gazette, stated in the House of Lords, on the 8th lost., Great Britain and the United States in relathat there was not any great difference of purifiers of the body politic. views between them. And, he added as follows :- "After that conversation has been reported to the United States Government, after the delivery of the despatch which I have written to Lord Napier, and after the orders | Cotton lands of this region, I will mention that have been sent to our officers in those that I have offered a gentleman in Perry Congress being in session more than six seas, I hope there will be no repetition of such acts as bave been described tous, whether truly or not. In these circumstances I feel that this country need remain under no apprehension that any thing will occur to break the alliance that so happily exists between the two countries." The language of the British Ministere, and of the British press, in relation to this matter, gives much satisfaction in this country. There appears to be every disposition to atone for wrong, and to cultivate the most friendly relations.

The newspapers give full accounts of the late disaster which befel the Steamer Pennsylvania. It was, probably, the most terrible steam boat accident which ever happened on the Mississippi river. The boat was plying between the cities of St. Louis and New Orleans, and as she was nearing the lower point Mygatt, of Kenosha who passed through of Bedeau Island, lying about seventy miles | this city yesterday, on his way home from below Memphis, on Sunday morning week, between the hours of six and seven, she exploded two of her boilers, making a report as of an destroying two United States buildings at- and four thousand pounds of rivets, and it hundred pieces of heavy ordonnee, and blowing the entire front portion of the boat, together with about two hundred of her passengers, both deck and cabin, hundreds of feet into the air. Many of them were asleep in their berths at the time, and were hurried, unawakened, into etemity. They were not firing up at the moment, but, on the contrary, were cleaning the coals out of the furnaces. Her machinery was some seven years old, which, most likely, was the cause of her

The telegraphic synopsis of the Europa's news had a brief reference to certain serious riots in Belfast, Ireland,--but said nothing about the cause of them. Our files make good the omission. It was the old feud becasion of the burial of a woman, the daughter of a member of a Roman Catholic gun club. The mourners seemed to have walked in procession, and some of them carried green boughs-an emblem of offence to the Protestants. Somebody threw a stone, and a fight commenced on a grand scale, lasting nearly an hour. For forty minutes this battle raged with terrible vigor. Stones fell as thick as hail in the midst of the rioters; men tell as if struck by gun-shot; and women too -for the "solter" sex were among the most prominent leaders on both sides. The rioters visited the more populous parts of the ent denominations and private houses were attacked and a considerable amount of property destroyed. These disturbances were of so alarming a character as to attract the attention of Parliament.

We learn by advices from Cairo that the first report of the disaster to that town ty. The prisoner was remanded for sentence by the flood was not exaggerated. The town is completely inundated, the water rushing with great force through the crevasse on the Mississippi side, and filling the basin formed by the continuous levee around the point .-The levee is like a rim to the bewl, within of that place. Through all that time I have tried to be as faithful to the public as they have been to on to New York to shape the details by which me. It was my doty never to trifle with them or to deceive them, or to presume upon hard and justily it. I have always endea-

Occasionally such things have chafed me, or even wounded me, but I have always accepted them as the shadows inseparable from the light of my otoriety and success. I have never obtraded any such personal uneasiness of mine upthe generous aggregate of my audience.

The Eruption of Vesuvius.

gress of the eruption :-

Naples, May 31 .- Since Saturday the cruption has proceeded with constantly increasing violence, and has presented at night more and more magnificent spectacle. In my last letter I mentioned that there issued from the great basis of fire in the Atrio a single stream of lava, which, after at riuous course, was descending the declivity of the mountain. This stream has continued its course, varying in breadth according to the accidents of the ground, and seems now to direct it-elf to a point between Portici and Torre del Greco, but much nearer the latter than the former. It approaches close to the scattered farmhouses which lie above the towns at the foot of the mountain, many of which it can scarcely fail to destroy.

In the afternoon of Saturday and Sunday two other streams of lava broke out of the great basin, and are descending the mounain toward the neighborhood of Portici -These streams seem to follow the direction of ravines, which run nearly parallel to the ridge on which the Opervatory and the Hermitage stand. These buildings have been hi herto saved from submersion by the lava by their great elevation, the fluid naturally ollowing the direction of the lower ground at either side of them.

Last night, the spectacle was peculiarly grand and imposing. The lava was poured in increased quantity along each of the streams already established, and being in a high state of incandescence, presented a pe cultarly splendid appearance.

At about eight o'clock an immense torrent of lava broke over the ridge which conues the basin of craters, in the direction of the Somma; it flowed down the declivity of the Somma as an immense torrent of liquid fice, and with such extraordinary rapidity that in less than an hour it had descended through a considerable portion of the mountain. progress was then retarded, partly by the diminished steepness of the ground, and partly by transverse ravines which must be filled before the fluid can advance. Nothing could exceed the splendor of this torrent of liquid fire, forming the fourth principal stream of lava; but the most extraordinary burst of plendor which has been presented since he commencement of the eruption, took place soon after 9 o'clock, when all the nounts seemed to be simultaneously called into violent action, and to vomit forth such torrents of lava that the entire mountain seemed one blaze of fire; the varied colors produced in different parts owing probably n part to reflection, presented a beautiful and striking appearance. The lurid light diffused from this enormous burning mass rendered visible the subjacent country, the coast, and the bay.

On each night several thousands of persons of all ranks, from the peer to the peasant, urged by curiosity, repair to the scene of this extraordinary spectacle. The darkness being complete, and the route in many parts difficult, each party is furnished with a torch, and the view of these hundreds of torches flitting about between the streams of lava is most curious, presenting the appearance of multitudes of fireflies.

The hermitage which is close to the great basin of craters and rivers of lava is approached by a tolerably good carriage road and, as may be supposed, hundreds of vehioles of every description, from the caleche of the millionaire to the humble coricolo, are collected there toward midnight. Donkey parties abound, of which ladies do not feer form a part.

JUNE 1 .- The state of the mountain last the same direction.

The Neapolitans congratulate themselves on the circumstance of the lava having been directed into so many different streams; for if, as in former eruptions, it had all been thrown into one channel, the destruction which must have ensued would have been tremendous.

The lava begins where it did in 1855.

The terrible eruption of Mount Vesuvius, Washington, June 20 .- Col. The dispatches were at once de-London Times, show the character and pro- livered to the President of the United States. Whatever we may think of the blasphemy the country in respect to Utah matters generally. To this fact may be attributed the uncourteous refusal of Col. Kane to communicate with the press. It is understood that Col. Kane denies the truth of the telegraphic announcement from Bo neville, intimating that the army would move on the arrival of the peace commissioners, when in fact Governor Cumming has requested it to remain where it is until orders hall be received from Washington.

Contrary to the reports so widely circulated. Col. Kane does not admit that there has seen any such want of harmony between Gov. Cumming and Gen. Johnston as would copard the public interests. He speaks in eulogistic terms of Gen. Johnston and the high state of discipline which that officer maintained in his forces, and of the praise worthy spirit manifested by the army during the wister.

The friends of the administration are much pleased with the manner in which Col. Kane is understood to allude to the conduct of Governor Cumming, saying that he is deserving of the gratitude of the country.

There was great hope in Utab, as else where, that the war was at an end. A peace party had been formed and was sufficiently strong in time to arrest the march of the Mormon forces against our own last spring. It was the impression in Utab that Brigham oung, who openly espoused the cause of the United States, would, in this respect, be the to maintain his position.

There was at one time strong opposition to him before emigration was resolved, upon. but ever since this the feeling of hostility has been subsiding. All the northern settlements are evacuated, with the exception of a fow Mormons left to guard the public property at Salt Lake city. Besides these there are no Mormons forty miles south of that city. The seventy families alluded to in a recent dispatch did not, as stated, apply to Gov. Cumming at Camp Scott for protection. They were brought there by him from Salt

Manassas Gap Rattroad.

We are pleased to state that active operaions are to be at once commenced on the Manassas Gap Railroad between Woodstock and Mt. Jackson. Our townsman, E. A. Shands, esq., will prepare the track for the very uncomfortable and unhealthy, I would rails, which will be laid under the direction of M. J. Placide, who has had much to "Pizarinetum Springs," where the day experience in that department. The road can be most pleasantly passed, and where all will be pushed to Mt. Jackson as soon as an who participate will derive a benefit from efficient force can do it. The cars are ex- the pure air and medicinal qualities of the pected to run to Mt. We hope the County Court of Rockingiam, at its June term, will pass a resolution | the proprietor, and consequently good order asking the Company to finish the difficult points of their road, already commenced between Harrisonburg and Mt. Jackson .-When the difficult points, already commenced, shall be finished, the rest of the grading being light, but little time need be consumed in the early completion of the road. We feel perfectly persuaded that the County Court of Rockingham will do whatever is necessary and proper to hasten the completion of thi improvement which is so largely to benefit our county. - Rockingham Register.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE!!-The undersigned, for the purpose of partition, GREEN" containing six hundred and seventy five ACRES, situated in the upper end of the county of Prince William, immediately on the road leading from Aldie to Gainesville, and about equidistant from those places, or about I miles from each. This farm is divided into re helds, besides a meadow and two or three ots. It is beautifully laid off, (the fields being arly all square.) the timber is of the best qual well dispersed over the farm and abundant all purposes. The whole is well watered, ere being no difficulty in watering stock from ery field in the driest seasons. The soil is ghly fertile, (being mostly chocolate) and all adapted, to wheat, corn and grass. Indeed ic facility with which the fields run into blue grass, after cropping, renders it one of the finest

The fencing is all in good order, and the nitre farm, in a high state of cultivation. It an winter and graze well, and with ease 75 or 80 Cattle of good size, and with very little expenditure for fertilizers-twelve or fifteen bun red bushels of wheat can be raised thereon annualty. The present crop of fallow wheat on a field of about fifty acres, presents a fair promise of a yield of at least 20 to 25 bushels per acre; the number of Beef Cattle at present grazing on the farm is about 70 and there are one or more fine grass fields scarcely touched The DWELLING though plain is in dings are also in good order and are quite sufficient in number. The shelters for stock and farming implements &c., are perhaps superior to those to be found on any farm within ten miles. In time, the undersigned, verily consider "Carter's Green" one of the best and most descrable farms to be found in this or any adjoining counties. It is nearly a square; is beautifully undulating; easy to cultivate; continue to call on you.

Driven from Nauvoo, they took refuge in the far West, where, separated from all the refinements of civilization, they prepared to organize a society of their own; and now, that they are justly required to submit to the laws of the United States, we see them deliberately abandon their homes and go to seek a habitation in the untrodden wilder ness. This movement is suggestive of many reflections and may be pregnant with much political significance. The telegraph states that they are moving South-that is towards Mexico. [COMMUNICATED. Gas on South Washington Street. I wish to call the attention of our citizens to the fact that a large number of persons residing in the Southwestern portion of the city desire, and have made strenuous exertions to obtain Gas in their respective localities; and especially by those on that part of Washington street, lying between Duke and Franklin streets. They have not entered into the matter without duly counting the cost of such a step, and their investigations show that it would not only be of great convenience to them, but also of decided benefit to the Corporation. A petition signed by those desiring to become consumers, is now before the City Council, and it is to be honed that measures will at once be adopted for supplying them with Gas light. The entire expense will not exceed $1,000, and the revenue flowing from that source, upon a close estimate, cannot be less than $200, or 20 per cent. per annum.

COMMUNICATED. As a celebration of the Fourth of July has been suggested by the President of the Ladies' Mount Vernon Association, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase, by that association, of Mt. Vernon, and as the weather in all human probability, judging from the present, will be very hot, and a celebration, in the city, consequently suggest that our citizens repair on the Fourth er than the water of the springs will be a lowed on the ground, with the permission and decorum will prevail. The small fee that would be necessarily charged, would do ter no one from participating in the testivities of the occasion.

The Superintendent of Police, is, I believe, doing his duty very faithfully-and he will not, therefore, understand me as complaining when I suggest that a cleaning and clearing out of many of the gutters in town, is much wanted. Some "villamous smells" assail the street passengers; and lime, and water, are instantly thought of, as the remedy. Came ron can be procured readily-and lime is no
